I hope you've all enjoyed week two.

As always, it's been very busy at MMI.

Last week, we were thrilled to get the news that Lilly Akagi and Mia Labone had placed second in the NATIONAL wearable arts competition. What an outstanding achievement from these clever, creative young people.

Our boys and girls basketball teams travelled to Rotorua last week to play in a tournament. Our girls came home with silver medals, beating Gisborne Intermediate in a thrilling final. Our boys had a mixed bag of some wins and some losses. All players represented us with pride and showed great sports-personship.

Last night was our school disco (photos below), run by our hard working PSG and thoroughly supported by our amazing staff who gave up their evening to join in the fun. It was great to see record numbers of students attending the disco and having a great time together. Here are a few snaps of the action.

Behaviour

This week, we have dealt with two separate behaviour incidents at school. One involved a physical fight between two students where two onlookers also chose to get involved. Any incidents of physical harm are taken very seriously at MMI and all students involved face serious consequences. In getting to the bottom of what caused this issue, it was something really very minor. This reminded us of how impulsive emerging adolescents can be. At times, they leap into other people's business without any thought for the consequences. Impulsivity is common at this age group. You can support your child with impulsivity by talking to them about plans when they feel heightened. Recognising the signs before they feel overwhelmed takes time and practice. Breathing, removing themselves from the environment for a short time and walking it off can all help.

The second incident stemmed from issues outside of school on social media where a group of students began picking on a new student whom they didn't even know and or had not even met. We were really disappointed that a small number of our Mounties had given a new person to our school such a rough start. Dealing with this issue also highlighted a common behaviour for this age group. Many emerging adolescents believe what their friends say as the 'gospel truth'. They need guidance and practice at seeking valid information about not jumping straight to conclusions or buying into gossip. I say to students; if you haven't seen it with your own eyes or heard it with your own ears, then it might not be right. You can help by encouraging your child to be kind and to seek valid information rather than responding to gossip. As always, limiting and monitoring social media use is super important.

At MMI we are proud of our safe, settled learning environment. By far the majority of our students are great at following our coastal values, interacting positively with their peers and making good decisions most of the time. There will always be a small number who challenge us and we will respond to these challenges by working hard to restore the harm caused and to be clear and consistent in our response. We make every endeavour to contact parents when things have gone wrong and to involve you in a plan to set a new direction. We appreciate the great support that parents give us when consequences are given.

Winter Tournament

Today was our Winter Tournament with teams representing MMI in football, hockey and netball. Huge thanks to the families who welcomed the teams from Gisborne into their homes. It was great to be out and about watching some sport and to see our talented, sporty Mounties out there having fun on the court, turf and field.

Have a great weekend everyone.

WHANAU 2

"He Waka eke noa" - We are all in this together

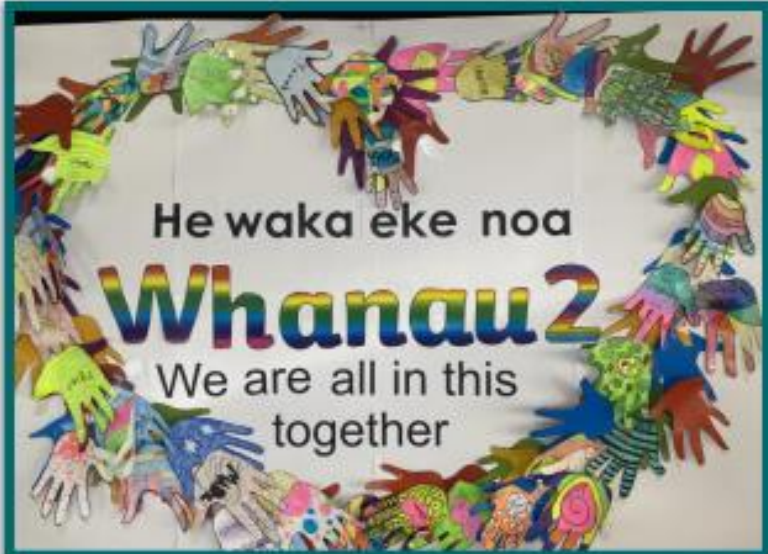

In Room 2 we truly believe that we are in this together. We support each other, we encourage and celebrate each other!! We learn hard and have fun!

Big Idea

Our Daily Life is affected by forms and transformations of energy.

We are learning about Energy and how it affects our lives. We have started doing some of the Science experiments in Whanau 2 and the students are loving every minute of it. They are real investigators!

Our focus in Maths this Term is Geometry. We are learning to use a four-quadrant coordinate system.

DANCE NZ MADE RESULTS

19 incredible students from MMI have been working hard on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday mornings this year, to perform and compete at the Dance NZ Made Regionals.
